

Find the Right Vet

One of the most important decisions you'll make as a pet parent is finding a quality health care provider for your furry friend. Selecting the right veterinarian is a personal decision, but you'll want to choose a practice that offers the highest available standard of care. That's why we're providing you with this list of reputable veterinarians in the Little Rock area.

When Should I Look for a Vet?

Guardians seek out new vets for a variety of reasons, including a recent adoption or move, concerns about a current vet's quality of care or treatment for a pet's specific health problem. As soon as you get your pet, it's important to seek a trusted veterinarian immediately.

How Do I Find a Vet?

Use this brochure list for a directory of reputable vets in the Little Rock area. It's also a good idea to ask for recommendations from friends, family and trusted neighbors.

Another reference is the Pulaski County Veterinary Association, or the American Animal Hospital Association (AAHA) which evaluates veterinary practices on the quality of their facilities, staff, equipment and patient care. Search the organizations' websites for a list of accredited vets.
